Press Release Chennai Sep 1st 2008: (Vaso-Meditech Pvt Ltd Exclusive distributor and clinical support for EECp & SphygmoCor in India)

Chennai Sep 2nd 2008. Vasomeditech Pvt Ltd the leading service and clinical support provider for Enhanced External Counterpulsation Therapy in India presented Abstract from its Indian Patient EECp registry (IPER) in European Society of Cardiology Conference held in Munich, Germany from 30th August to 3rd September.

Dr.Sivakadaksham MD, DM. Chief Interventional cardiologist Harvey Hospitals Chennai presented the study in Europe. This study demonstrated 92% of the patient who have undergone EECp significantly improved in Anginal symptoms measured by Canadian cardiovascular society functional class irrespective of the Left Ventricular function. Overall there is 20% improvement in their LV function. In subgroup analysis patient with Severe Left Ventricular dysfunction with EF < 35% shows marked improvement of 46%.

Dr.S.Ramasamy Director of Vaso-Meditech Pvt Ltd commented "This study once again confirmed international experience that EECp can improve quality of life in patient with Refractory angina with Left ventricular Dysfunction by improving the myocardial contraction".

Dr.Sivakadaksham the lead author of the study said "it was surprising to see almost all of the 110 patients we treated have significantly improved their quality of life and exercise time when they completed the 35 prescribed EECp sessions. These were the patients who were refractory to our standard modality of treatment and benefited from our Refractory Angina and Heart failure clinic".
